

There is way too much violence on TV, even for adults. I don't care about science fiction or other inconsequential depictions of violence. But graphic, emotionally charged violence, should not be on TV. If people want to watch that stuff, they should rent or buy the movies.